QUINTESSENTIAL

Capabilities & Services.

Quintessential Consulting Pty Ltd is a professional services consultancy that develops your workforce to future-proof your organisation. We work with Government, Industry, Private clients and the Not-For-Profit sectors to enable organisational improvement and operational excellence.

We are a small and agile organisation led by its Director and supported by a trusted network of highly experienced consultants. Our team has a wealth of practical knowledge in a wide variety of sectors.

As our world becomes more unpredictable and complex, problems require new approaches, and new thinking. Quintessential was established to upskill and equip decision-makers with practical and effective methodologies, to offer clarity and vision by implementing new ways of working in today's challenging environment.

We believe that if we can see things differently, we can create new behaviours and practices, opening up new possibilities previously unseen to us.

We build your capability, enabling you to address your future challenges through new thinking and new behaviours.

Industry Specialties.

ENGINEERING & TECHNICAL

- Quintessential works with Engineering & Technically oriented organisations, developing their workforce to think more strategically and building general business skills.

CORPORATE EDUCATION

- Quintessential has developed and delivered a wide range of Management, Team, Strategy and Leadership programs to a variety of clients, to meet both general and bespoke needs.

AVIATION & AEROSPACE

GOVERNMENT

- Quintessential has worked with Federal and State Governments, delivering on a wide range of topics, including strategy, governance, assurance, performance and asset management.

CREATIVE PROBLEM SOLVING

- We help you to better understand your problem situations through critical thinking and creative problem solving, revealing and identifying what lies underneath the surface.

SYSTEMS THINKING

- We leverage Systems Thinking methods to more effectively understand how everything fits together. We apply practical approaches to solve problems in a holistic and sustainable manner, upskilling your workforce to think more strategically.

Quintessential Consulting offers competency-based learning & development program assessment, design and delivery. Whether generic or bespoke, our approach provides you with the benefit of being able to implement meaningful and sustainable change. We partner with key RTOs to enable formal recognition of your learning, and we also offer follow-up coaching support to embed new ways of working and enable your workforce to continuously learn and adapt.

HUMAN CENTRED DESIGN

- We place the human at the centre of the design process and undertake a process of authentic inquiry to bring to the surface the perspective of the person who experiences the problem and to see the world through their eyes.

COACHING AND FACILITATION

- We adopt a coaching approach to our engagements by co-creating the solution with our clients. This facilitates a process of empowerment that enables change through commitment rather than compliance.
